Dear students, colleagues and friends, hereby we would like to cordially invite you to participate in our upcoming philosophy workshop on “Eros Past and Present. Love and Desire in Traditional and Contemporary Thought” in Warsaw, Poland on the 18th and 19th December 2024 under the auspices of the Department of Philosophical Anthropology and Social Philosophy of the IFIS PAN. Join us to discuss concepts and phenomena pertaining to love and desire in various intellectual frameworks ranging from classical and modern philosophy to phenomenology and psychoanalysis. Our internationally acclaimed speakers will share results of their established as well as recent research, with generous timeslots reserved for your comments and questions, fostering dialogue and discussion between and across the various disciplines that will come together at the historical Staszica Palace in the heart of Poland’s Capital City of Warsaw.

The program is outlined in the attached timetable, minor details of which (such as tentative titles) may be subject to change.

Attending our workshop will grant a certificate to all participants and is intended to provide you with an opportunity to gain insights and learn from leading scholars in the field, while also providing opportunities to network with others who are passionate about the philosophy of love and desire as well as its many related discourses.

Attendance at the workshop is free of charge, though we would kindly ask that you register your participation by way of a short e-mail stating your name and affiliation (e.g., your university or institute etc.) to Thomas Dojan (tdojan@smail.uni-koeln.de) until the 12th of December 2024 latest.
